What does it mean to be reformed Christians in the world today and in Africa and South Africa? What does it mean to commemorate the legacy of John Calvin 1509-1564 after 500 years in a modern world characterised by democracy, by popular notions of human dignity and human rights, by worldwide struggles for individual freedoms and for social justice, by a global economy in crisis when social historians argue about the lasting contribution of Calvin and his followers? Precisely with respect to all these modern phenomena the 28 essays by Dirkie Smit selected for this volume deal with such questions.
